Combat Intelligence Analysis: [REDACTED]

Terrorism Activities: [REDACTED]

- Changes in the terrorism intelligence community leadership structure are emerging. Dave Whipple will be replaced by Charlie Allen as NIO/CT, with Mr. Allen also assuming the duties of NIO for Narcotics. The personnel change reportedly will be accompanied by a change in the nature of the NIO's duties. Dave Whipple's emphasis was on operations and Community coordination, estimates and production were secondary. We understand that this will be reversed under Mr. Allen. Charlie will probably relinquish chairmanship of the Interagency Intelligence Committee on Terrorism--the primary Community counterterrorism coordination panel--to [REDACTED] of DO, leaving himself free to concentrate more on intelligence production, however, this has not yet been confirmed. Charlie is due to report to the NIC on 16 January. A two-week overlap with Mr. Whipple is expected.

- We have not yet received any reaction from the Community on these changes. Our expectation is that the idea of combining the NIO/CT and the NIO/Narcotics duties will not be well received. Also, the reversion of the IICT chairmanship to DO may raise a few eyebrows. Many of the Community elements would likely prefer to see these responsibilities remain with someone with a Community hat who they perceive as more "independent" of CIA.

It also agreed that a review session should be held after each of its future sessions.
